

TWIN TWO

Environmental Policy

Twin Two's core market is making not only beautiful furniture but useful and withstanding. Rather than embarking on the quick and cost effective daily methods of producing furniture, we lovingly employ traditional manufacturing techniques using quality materials which are conscientiously sourced. We carefully consider the materials used in all of our pieces, ensuring we only chose those which will stand up to the job and be durable for our clients needs.

Twin Two is not only based in Birmingham, UK, it is where all of our products are designed, developed, manufactured and distributed from. It's this approach which is the starting point to our environmental statement, and its an important one. We are a British company but more locally, we're a Birmingham business. We employ several manufacturing sites, all in the immediate vicinity to where are design team are based. This lack of manufacturing miles means two things, one that we are being environmentally friendly, keeping our emissions as low as possible and two, that our designers and manufacturing hubs are in daily face to face contact to ensure that our customers get exactly what they want. This locality gives us exceptional flexibility, meaning that tweaks to existing designs or bespoke projects really isn't a problem. Our sourcing from local suppliers also means that we only order that which we're going to use, we keep by products to a minimum and recycle these into usable products.

As well as Twin Two sustainable approach, we understand that clients may have environmental standards which they wish to adhere to. We work hand in hand with our clients to ensure that these are met wherever possible to fulfill their criteria. Our raw materials can be traced to source if requested and our timber is FSC sourced.
